

About Me

Christina Matt graduated with a B.A. in Communications from George Mason University in Spring 2019. Her coursework included writing, media production, and a selection of design classes like Typography, Web Design, and Graphic Design.

Communication and Design go together.

